

A Verse on Life: Poetry

The book contains 224 poems about all different subjects; written entirely by this author - from the first poem she wrote as a child, to the last one that she wrote - just before she sent her manuscript off to be published into a book. There is no limit to Jessica's writing. As an experienced and talented poet, she can write about anything multiple times each and her poems consist of all different kinds of descriptive words unlike just one. For example, her poems are all different. Some are funny, some sad - some are interesting and some explanatory. Others aren't just poems; they're useful in giving advice wrapped in a poetical message and most are melodically written with rhythm; to be read in the same manner, of rhythmic melodies. Because everyone deserves to have a pleasurable reading experience. Here's a poem for most moods - characteristics and thoughts. Of getting right to the point; and to get a picture in your head, different from the things that you are looking at. These poems are for people who like to read fun and intense, short stories or poems to enlighten themselves when in need of enlightenment and to enjoy the moments in which they're carried away for a short moment, this is the book for you.
