

Elizabeth and the Observatory

For centuries mankind taught itself how to wage war on others, our final lesson was about to arrive. In 1901, just as man was entering his modern age of electrical and mechanical wonders, an event takes place that will shatter the hope and optimism of a bright new century. From our closest planetary neighbor, Mars, a species far more aggressive and far more desperate for a new home arrives. One man, Jonathan Hartaway, an astronomer invited to the world renowned Royal Observatory in London, witnesses the dramatic events unfolding before his eyes. As his assistant, Elizabeth Stratin chooses to start a new life far from him; Jonathan descends into madness as the invaders arrive on Earth. Jonathan must confront his own personal War of Worlds as he overcomes his guilt and fear and engages the invaders from the shores of the English Channel to the very heart of Paris. He races to find his beloved before the invaders lay waste to all before them.
