

The Sixth Cursed Halloween (Six Curses Book 3)

On Halloween night, Brad settles down to report his Bonsai tree. After an argument with his girlfriend, he needs someone to talk to. He's not expecting the tree to talk back. Surprise! Diedres cursed inside his bonsai tree. She's been curled up watching him for years. This conversation is the first she's had in centuries. Brad tries to set her free, but at the end of the night, he loses the ability to hear the woman with the sexy brogue. He vows he'll do what it takes to get her out, wanting to know the woman behind the voice. He even has erotic dreams about the woman she might be, for the five long years he searches for the saving spell. Diedre hates men. All of them. Or does she? Brad's such an earnest hunk, so determined to do right by her. Maybe they have some redeeming qualities - like a sexy, muscular chest. On the sixth Halloween, a woman from Brad's life turns Diedre's life upside down. Literally. That's not a good thing for a potted tree. Now she's getting a choice: a life with Brad without her magic or back to the trees, but she can work her curses and take her revenge. What will she choose this sixth cursed Halloween?
