

Grace and Glory

There is no greater joy in life than praising the Lord, our Creator. That's the message of Grace and Glory, a remarkable collection of poetry and song inspired by Him and His wonderful acts. In dozens of pieces collected here, the poet Paul E. Hubenak masterfully expresses the incomparable feeling of exalting in God's glory. Explored are man's relationship to God, His unceasing love for us, our debt owed to Him for His suffering, and the incredible beauty of His creation in all its forms. As long as I can remember I have enjoyed watching my surroundings, says Hubenak. Once I realized there was a common thread to all these things, I spent a countless amount of time pondering the vastness of all that was created by God and for the glory of God. The results are these poems, which remind us, in vivid imagery, just how blessed we are to have a Father so powerful, loving, merciful and glorious. Explore the miracle of forgiveness, the promise of salvation, the magnificence of peace and security that is His Word. Grace and Glory is perfect for Bible study, daily meditation, or simply for whenever you need spiritual succor. And it is an ideal companion for both those new to Christ as well as longtime Christians.
