

The Super Hadron Conspiracy

This stunning new book begins in 2014 and predicts the future of the Large Hadron Collider. Its a story of dark research, bloodshed and criminal intrigue. Two years earlier in 2012, people were forced to think seriously about Mayan predictions that spelt the end of the world in a global cataclysm. Approaching that time, a fateful decision was made to turn the LHCs power up to maximum. The Maya had discovered the black hole at the centre of our galaxy, calling it HUNAB KU their central sun and creator of all. Black holes were once the stuff of science fantasy but not any longer. Modern science confirmed the existence of a super-massive black hole at the centre of our own Milky Way galaxy, leading many to wonder how Mayans were able to discover this centuries ago. A startling prediction today is that in 2012, an event will take place that sees the alignment of our Sun with the Galactic equator, the location of the super-massive black hole. A storm of controversy surrounds the alleged prediction that the world will come to an end in 2012, but Stephen Hawking and modern science only recently accepted the concept of black holes, so will it be a case of science catching up with the Mayans again? Critics say it is just that the Mayan calendar comes to an end and nothing else was predicted after that. Others say ancient Maya prophets foretold an earth-shattering event would occur on or around this time, which is often described in cataclysmic fashion. They had a glyph that represented the black hole in our galaxy and believed it caused our world to go through cycles of birth, death and rebirth. One thing for certain, is they predicted the super-massive black hole would generate a lot of activity in 2012 as it comes into alignment with our solar system. They said this was going to end the cycles of birth and death of our world, which would end by fire. NASA confirmed they anticipate massive sunspot and solar flare activity in 2012, but dont go as far as to say that everything will end in fire. This book examines another little considered possibility, which is that the black hole that threatens Earth's existence may be created by scientists. The Large Hadron Collider at CERN, which smashes atoms together to recreate conditions existing at the time of the Big Bang, had been running at half power and scientists were hesitant to turn its power up to maximum. Was it just a coincidence that Mayan doomsday scenarios of the world's final days included Earth being swallowed up by a black hole? In 2012, scientists feared the Hadron Collider would create the deadly black hole and that its destiny was to destroy planet Earth, but only once its power was turned up to full whack! A number of court cases tried to stop the LHC before it created a deadly black hole and CERN had dismissed this as utter nonsense, but when they turn the power up in 2012 who knows what will happen. This book explores a possible outcome of that fateful decision, which leads to a mysterious trail of 15 murdered scientists. A crack investigation team is brought in headed by the brilliant Detective Chief Superintendent Lionel Navarro, who is later joined by US special agent Jenifer Nixon, a female James Bond character. A small team of experts is assembled including one of the world's top scientists, Professor Antoine Taskani and a beautiful female physicist named Sophie Moreau. Taskani is considered a genius and he needs to recreate the dangerous Hadron experiments without destroying the world, as this may shed light on the murky investigation. But will he succeed? Very quickly, the team is forced to become the guardians of the new technology and the Hadron Collider experiment is considered the ultimate prize, but dark forces soon try to grasp its secrets in a terrifying journey for the unlikely team. Amid the terror, a love story unfolds but can the combined will of this small team triumph over deadly adversity and will the world survive?
