

The God Games: Legend of Kor

Energynauts work for ONE by answering prayers from His children across the Cosmos. Ed and Ann Nelson and Thomas and Glenna Boyle are married energynauts sent by ONE from Heaven to the planet Kor to find a way to depose the ego-maniacal dictator, Gog, of Selve. They are to meet with and help the underground resistance forces from the four countries of Kor form a united front and face Gog in battle. They arrive in a gold and crystal spaceship which they use for meetings with the traumatized Korians and also to spy on Gogs forces; and with multiple skills and powers such as the ability to become invisible, tele-transport, and communicate telepathically. The energynauts have bodies that are energy forms-made of pure energy-and they enter a Parturient Chamber to put on mortal bodies similar to the bodies of the people in the country they are each assigned to aid. Two restrictions on the energynauts are that they are not allowed to interfere with the decisions of the leaders they work with and they are not to do anything that those leaders can do for themselves. They are to be advisors and helpmeets only. Gog is determined to exterminate all of the despised orange Wales whom he believes are completely primitive because they worship a single God and rule their country with judges instead of a king. The Wales produce 95% of Kors food supply, and control the raising and sale of the narcotic sugar beets that have the power to dissipate all pain. It infuriates Gog that the stupid, ugly Wales should have such power in Kor and he wants that power. He also has a score to settle with the Wale who murdered his first wife, and he means to take that out in Wale suffering. No one is safe in Emon or Voun because Gogs storm troops enter their countries to rape, murder, pillage, and capture the blue Emons and the lavender Vouns to use as slaves in their gold and silver mines. In Wale, the people are slaughtered and left lying by the side of the road or taken to the death camp to be to
