

Lifes Adventures with Me and LT

This book is a collection of short stories about the adventures, lessons and observations that I learned growing up in Vermont with my older brother Larry (LT). These are stories about hunting, fishing and what life was like for the two of us. Such as; Making Good Ole Mountain Cider, Larrys deer rescue from the January Thaw of 59, and then there was a winter rescue from Nebraska Notch, then in our later years the story of running the river and burning the family canoe, and my rendition of the great race between, the turtle and the Hare. Larry was always a great one for hatching new ideas and things to do, and when I would balk at some of them, he would kinda caulk his head sideways, and with a grin he would say Awe, where is your sense of Adventure?
