

Muddled Daze

What would you do? A freak accident, involving a pallet of pineapples, leaves Graham Ray Sunshine in a coma fighting for his life. When he recovers, the only lasting legacy of his accident is that every week he experiences Thursday before Wednesday. Struggling to come to terms with this affliction, will he use his gift for good or ill? He gets into a series of scrapes with his best mate from school, Colin Beaky Creek, who blindly follows his lead. Trying to use his knowledge of Thursday before Wednesday to win personal advantage, results in some very bizarre and unintended consequences. Ray then has a pivotal moment when he considers how best to use his gift and this leads to a new series of adventures full of more teasing moral conundrums, again with the unquestioning assistance of his pal, Beaky. But will he be able to come to terms with his situation before he drives himself over the edge?
