

Rocky Jones Space Ranger ADVENTURE IN CYBER-SPACE

Harry is a serial killer raised in Egypt by a sadist, but in London became a computer game designer in order to live in computer enhanced dreams that allowed him to escape his past. A NY firm then hired him to build Rocky Jones Space Ranger but Harry was then fired just as the game takes off. This snapped his mind and he began to hunt down players who took on the Rocky Jones persona. When the story opens, he is also stealing player minds, making them slave characters. In Saint Louis, a boy named Robby suffers from deep depression because his mother and grandfather died in a car crash; only he and his father survived.

The game is suggested as therapy and despite Tony's misgivings about sexual predators, he allows Robby to play. But then Tony and friends discover Harry. At first thinking Harry is a sexual predator, Tony searches, only later realizing what he really is. The chase is on to save Robby. Will Tony and his friends save Robby from the Memory Man?
