

Death By Computer

Computers have changed the way we all live, until now. Now they determine how we will die. When John Sanford developed his program to ease the many side effects of hours at a computer terminal, he thought he was going to win a Pulitzer. Instead he unleashed a deadly virus that could turn the kindest of men into a ruthless killer, and he wouldn't know it. Robert faces Government agents gone bad, and a maniac with world domination in the agenda, all to help a friend from his distant past. Be careful how open your computer tonight.
