

The Mystery Of The Blue-Ringed Octopus (Haleakaloha Adventures Book 46)

The mystery begins when Andy and Tomas are driving home after attending a charity rodeo for the Childrens Fund sponsored by their Pop, Senator Deolatus who is up for re-election to the state legislature. At a roadside fruit stand they offer a hitch-hiker a lift. When the boys realize that the mystery man had a bus ticket but used them for a ride anyway, the plot thickens. An insurance investigator, Roland Gallegos, appears at the campaign office claiming the hitch-hiker is the mastermind of the Hawaii Kai payroll robbery eleven years ago. He is identified as Borachine. Gallegos tells the boys that the cash from the robbery was never found, and that it may be hidden somewhere in the area. Despite getting mugged by unknown assailants Andy and Tomas trail Borachine to Makapuu Point and Sea Life Park where they are outsmarted by their elusive prey. Still, it is apparent that this park holds the key to the whole affair and that a blue-ringed octopus figures prominently. While searching for clues in Sea Life Park, during a fair and special exhibit, our boys run into the Barco brothers, Alastor and Charon. The aura of evil hangs about them. It is only after Andy and Tomas are trapped in a lava tube and outwit their captors and a wild boar, that the fascinating truth is finally revealed. Set on island of Oahu Hawaii, The Mystery Of The Blue-ringed Octopus by the haole papahale Robert R. Dahlgren, is a hair-raising tale of adventure and a thrill a minute ride into terror. You wont be able to put this one down until the exciting climax and you just may not want to wade in the ocean again.
