

The Kavi

This book, The Kavi, expresses poetic beauty, clarity of thought, and lucidity in expression. It is a collection of poetry, which reflects deep thought that has been inspired by experience, and astutely expressed through simple verse. Kavi is a Sanskrit term given to a poet or one who creates poetry from intuition rather than logic. The ancient Vedic scriptures saw the Creator as the Supreme Poet; and the infinite Kavi was able to express himself spontaneously through his creation. This perhaps is the most sublime appreciation of a poet. Consequently, the Kavis of ancient times derived their name because of their ability to be one with the creator and the creation, and to expand their consciousness and express themselves spontaneously.
