

Through the Eyes of Tully McClain

Experience the ultimate pain and loss through the eyes of a very intriguing young man named Tully McClain. Tully is enjoying life with his three brothers, a dog named Dingbat, and plenty of cheap entertainment around the house. But one night an event that was never supposed to happen came shattering down upon him, leaving him speechless, hurt, and angry. And that was all before the funeral. Tully will go through an amazing transformation in life that may end up sounding like some kind of amazing you've experienced as well. Adults think teenagers are materialistic, selfish kids who just happen to be taller than all the other kids running around. Grown-ups sometimes forget how many emotions, decisions, and survival tactics are swirling around in the mind of a teen. Tully understands, and he hopes that eventually, his family will, too. Maybe he can help them and you and anyone watching and listening and living through the eyes of Tully McClain.
