THE AVERAGE MALE IS 98% CHIMPANZEE... THE OTHER 2% ISNT SO SMARTAs far as science teacher Charlie Elliss love-life goes, chaos is more than just a theory. Caught giving his fiancee Deborah an out-of-hours practical biology lesson (so to speak) in the staffroom one parents night, Charlie suddenly finds himself single, unemployed and lost in a thoroughly unscientific world of blind dates, blind lust and blind panic.If only this relationship stuff wasnt so complicated, if only there was some logic to it - a scientist like Charlie might stand more of a chance. Because Charlie likes things ordered, and, well, scientific... Charlie begins to research this crazy little thing called love and comes up with some very surprising data indeed. Science has some very strict ideas about what men find sexy, what women find sexy and what this whole sexiness thing is for...But theyre just theories, right? Youre not supposed to put them into practice. Are you?
