

Oscar Caliber Gun: 25th Anniversary Edition

Hollywood celebrity stalker Ray Tompkins prowls the underbelly of Los Angeles, his new target is A-List Movie Actor Tim Griffith, and Rays going to see this one through to the star-studded murderous end. A tight-paced, satirical thriller set in a seamy Californian hell. Fans of Easton Ellis and Nathanael West will savor Baums award-winning novel previously made into a short film by Zombieland director Ruben Fleischer starring Kevin Corrigan. This pacy, tightly written novel is like Taxi Driver meets Charles Bukowskis Factotum.

Uncut

An amusing, persuasive insight into obsession, stalking and the disintegration of sanity. Butterfly A marvel of pace and comic timing. Daily Telegraph With a superb narrative control, Baum paints a portrait of male dysfunction set to explode.

The List Ray is nearly as good a portrait of post-collegiate angst as has been painted so far.

New York Press Explores the hazy junction where the teeth of the daily grind sink into the day-dreamt certainties of lifes true bell-head sounds. Lee Ranaldo, member of Sonic Youth
