

Whispers of Love: In Whispers of Love God speaks to my heart

Sometimes in the deepest of night and sometimes in the depths of my soul, God whispers to me words that only my heart can hear. This collection of poems and other writings have been written over the last decade of my life and are very near and dear to my heart. Originally, my thoughts were for these words to be just for me and the intended recipient, but God has something different in mind. So, I am very privileged to share them with you. I hope you will enjoy these Whispers of Love that God has spoken to my heart. -Beverly Rollins
